

Philadelphia Water Department

Aramark Tower
Philadelphia, PA

CDA&I is part of the project team for interior office renovations in the Water Department's ARAMARK Tower headquarters. Programming and space planning for 90,000 square feet of offices is followed by phased renovations designed to create a healthy workplace environment, serve as a model of sustainability, and celebrate the Water Department's mission. Renovations to date include coordination of over $1 million in construction and $800,000 in furniture cost for offices, conference rooms, public areas and data center.
